168 CLOSING
One parting glance, then we say goodbye

Spirit. The intangible stuff that holds a community together. But just because it's intangible doesn't mean you can't feel it. Or see it. Juniata exemplifies spirit and togetherness. Whether it's the competitive spirit of our athletes and varsity sports teams, or the fighting spirit of their supporters, you can both see and feel it. And this spirit doesn't die after graduation, either. Juniata's alumni will attest to that. There is a special bond that is formed during the time that is spent here, a bond which continues to pull graduates back. Togetherness, community, and mutual support — that is what Juniata College is all about.

Juniata College is dedicated to providing the highest quality liberal education. The aim of that education is to awaken students to the empowering richness of the mind and enable them to lead fulfilling lives.

As a community, Juniata cultivates the environment necessary to foster individual growth. We value mutual support, the free exchange of diverse ideas, and the pursuit of cooperative and individual achievement.

A Juniata education helps students to understand the fundamental methods and purposes of academic inquiry and to achieve an appreciation of their cultural heritage. On this base, Juniata Students are stimulated to exercise creativity and to develop those fundamental values which give meaning and structure to life.

As we leave our home and make our place in the world, we will always carry with us the lessons we've learned and life we've lived here. And even though we eagerly look forward to the future, every once in a while we like to look back at the places we've been and the people we've known. This edition of the Alfarata attempts to catch a glimpse of Juniata and maintain its memory, from the last days of summer and Homecoming weekend to Madrigal festivities, and finally graduation and its farewells. Within the following pages is evidence of what makes Juniata College so special — the traditions which make up its spirit and the people which make up its very soul.

Faculty

Focus on: Biology

Faculty

The biology department is quite extensive at Juniata. Whether a student takes Biology 101 to fulfill a science requirement, or samples many of the additional offerings, his knowledge in the field will be greatly enriched. The faculty of the department hail from prestigious universities throughout the nation and bring with them their own specializations, but most importantly their love of the subject. Advanced classes such as cell biology, histology, and embryology may be taken once the basic courses are acquired by the student. Research with faculty members and independent research are also pluses in the biology department.

Thomas J. Baldino, Associate Professor in Political Science (1979). B.A., LaSalle College, 1971; M.A., University of Illinois, 1974; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania, 1982; additional study, Vanderbilt University, University of Pittsburgh.

Focus on: Foreign Language

Faculty

As the rapid changes toward global unity take place, emphasis on foreign languages is bound to increase. Juniata offers its students French, German, Russian, Japanese, Spanish, and several other language classes to augment their studies in other subjects, or to create a foreign language POE. Visiting professors from the represented languages' countries are often found on campus adding a closer view to the study of a language. Foreign language study is more than mere grammatical rules and vocabulary words, it is an understanding of a culture; the history and current events of a country and its people. Such a study is an advantageous addition to any POE. A foreign language lab holding language tapes and current events releases from the countries is avaiable for the student's use.

Focus on: Fine Arts

Faculty

Art history courses are provided to help students gain an understanding of our cultural heritage and the effects of art on our own attitudes today. The fine arts department also provides course offerings and hands-on experience in the studio arts such as painting, photography, ceramics, and illustration.

Professor Karen Rosell takes pictures in Europe and works with the new Scholars Abroad program, teaching art to pre-freshmen in Europe. Professor Jack Troy will be busy showing his ceramics in California at San Jose City College where he will also be teaching a ceramics workshop for the San Francisco Pottery Association. He will also be teaching a workshop at Oregon State University.

Focus on: Psychology

Faculty

Freud, Skinner, Jung. It's psychology and our psychology department offers both a general background to students pursuing other studies, or an exentsive study in the field. Course offerings start with the introductory course and further offerings deal with behavior at all levels of analysis, from the smallest units of psychology (psysiological psychology) to the largest units (source psychology). There are great oppurtunities for students to do research and experimentation in the research facilites which support work on a variety of topics.

Faculty

Focus on: General Education

Faculty

Two General Education courses are required of all students to develop basic analysis and writing skills. One course is Senior Value Studies which is taken by all students in their senior year to encourage them to examine their own value systems, beliefs, and presuppositions, as well as make decision based upon them. The other course is one of several courses offered in which students critically examine the works of a people at a particular time and place. One such course is 17th Century New World, in which European life of that time is examined, and how the scientist and philosophers began to emerge from a medieval state to the beginnings of the modern world. The other course is the Heart of India, a special course offered only this year, taught by Professor Itishree Devi, who came from India to teach the course. The whole college benefited from her residence here, for during the course of the year she performed a program of Odissi dance.

Women's Volleyball

There's just no stopping the Juniata College Women's Volleyball team.

With nationally recognized coach Larry Bock at the helm, the team went on to yet another undefeated season against MAC rivals, taking twelve straight games in almost straight sets. Ironically, the only two sets that they lost in MAC competition all season were their first two against Shippensburg. They rallied to win the final three, however, and from there the team was unbeatable.

In addition to their MAC championship, the team made impressive showings at the five invitationals they attended. This included the Elizabethtown Invitational and the locally-held JC Coca-Cola Classic, both places of which they earned first place. They gained second place finishes in the Washington Quad Tournament and the IUP Classic, and made a respectable third in the U.S. Naval Academy Tournament.

Most notable, though, was their trip to the NCAA division III Final Four tournament. Juniata again proved to be a dominating force, fighting forcefully and earning third place.

"I feel that we were the best team in the country this season." — Coach Larry Bock

Coach Bock had many good comments about his squad. "The team played to their potential, both individually and collectively. I feel that we were the best team in the country this season. I think that if we were given a neutral home site in the semis at the NCAA Tournament we could have very well been national champs." He counted three things as the best highlights of the season: winning the Coca-Cola Classic, winning the MAC Championship, and obtaining third place at the NCAA National Championships.

Kris Witchey, Rhonda Bygall, and Melinda Selby claimed All-Conference, All-Eastern, and All-American status. Laurie Snow and Angie Shue also made All-Conference this season. Witchey led the country in assists per game, Bygall was in the top ten percent in total kills, and Selby was ranked in the top ten percent in kills per game in the country.

The Indians spent most of the 1989 season trying to escape from its worst slump in recent history, as the team couldn't seem to better its opponents. The team had expected a slower year, due to a relatively young lineup and a new coach, and indeed, lost the season opener to Washington & Jefferson 0-20. The team had only 7 yards at halftime but was only losing 7-0, and in the second half gained 87 yards, but could not overcome the Presidents.

"Of course we are not satisfied with our win-lose record."- Coach Small

The Indians had a last-minute loss to Moravian, and at Albright scored a season-high of 23 points, but it still wasn't enough to win. Jason Miller started in his first game at Reading and completed 15 of 30 passes for 186 yards and two touchdowns. Dennis DeRenzo made a touchdown plunge in the beginning of the game, and by the end of the season broke the 2000-yard rushing barrier for his career.

Finally, in the last two games the Indians were able to enjoy the taste of victory against Wilkes and St. Francis. "Those were two exciting games, going out with two wins helped build confidence for next year," commented senior flanker Dan Crossey, who concluded his career with a 19-yard touchdown run against St. Francis. Coach Small remarked about the 1989 season, "Of course we are not satisfied with our win-lose record," but looked optimistically towards next year's games.

Soccer

Juniata's soccer team suffered through a difficult season ending with a 1-12 record, and due to tremendous pressure on the defense, Juniata's starting keeper Tim Phelps recorded 157 saves during the season. Upfield, the team was centered by Doug Kovac's strong mid-field leadership, and Bob Kelley led the offense in points. John Telenko was selected as team MVP.

The team will miss seniors Bob Kelley, Jeff Moseman, Tim Phelps, John Telenko, and Doug Kovacs, as well as exchange students Dan Nicholls and Martin Broom. However, the team looks forward to next year with returning letterwinners Preziosi, Klimek, Bradway, Shubert, and Schierloh. Chris Noyes summed up his last season as Coach by saying, "It was a difficult season, but we had fine performances from our freshmen. I have confidence that the team will improve next year with John Mumford being the head coach."

Field Hockey

The Juniata College women's field hockey team played an impressive season this year, posting a 9-win and 3-loss record overall under the guidance of Coach Kathy Quinn. This brings the team's two-year record to 21 wins, 6 losses, and one tie, a strong showing.

Along the way, several records were set in both the team and individual categories. Senior Kathleen McGowan set a new career scoring record, finishing her four years with a total of thirty-eight goals. The squad set school records by holding their opponents to only ten total goals on the season, a new low. In addition, they posted no less than seven shutouts, three of which they earned consecutively and gained another school record.

> Coach Quinn commented that the overall performance of the team was strong.

Coach Quinn stated that the overall performance of the team was strong. Along with Kathleen McGowan, Quinn said that seniors Kris Shepardson and Genevieve Warner will be hard to replace. She did say, however, that "most of the girls are coming back, so we are looking for a good future."

Cross Country

The Women's Cross Country team had a disappointing beginning, losing the first three meets, but Kim Wurth and Theresa Richards, two out of the top five runners, had missed these meets. Once the regular lineup was in place, the team went 3 and 1.

> "The ending wasn't as sweet as we hoped, but the season in all was very successful." — Andy Larmore

The girls finished the year thirteenth out of fifteen at MAC's, and Wurth came in twentieth at MAC's.

Coach Payne praised Senior Lisa Peterson for her dedication and outstanding performances throughout the season. "She was the hardest worker by far. I've developed great admiration for Lisa."

The men had a tough start too. They lost six out of seven top runners and had one person running with a broken ankle, Jeff Hetrick.

In spite of everything the team worked extremely hard. Coach Payne acknowledges Andy Larmore's hard work. "He always gave 100%"

Men's Volleyball

The men's volleyball team had a tremendous first season as a varsity sport this year, exceeding everyone's expectations and capturing the MAC first place title, and beating several Divison I teams.

"We didn't know what to expect," remarked sophomore Mike Juniper, "we hoped to do well in the MACs and be at least competitive against Division I teams." Although the team started well, they improved as the season went on. One of the highlights of the season was when the men played St. Francis for the second time. They had lost to that school before, but the momentum they had gained since then kept them going and beat St. Francis in five games. Also, they placed second in the ASICS Volleyfest

Setter Mark Knaub was chosen as MVP, and the team will only lose two seniors next year. The men are optimistic for next year, and expect to continue winning. Coach Bock praised the team, "This first year team exemplified everything that Juniata promotes in its student athletes- hard work, perserverence, and excellence. This group of people were pioneers of men's volleyball at Juniata College."

Men's Basketball

Coach Dan Helm was happy with the way the season turned out, and was not depressed because of a losing season. Given all of the different situations that arose during the season, he stated that the season was a good one. Ron Benkovic lead the MAC North in rebounds with 10.5 per game, and Mike Welker holds the 3-point record with 9 out of 10 and also received Academic All-American honors, scoring 83 3-point field goals in a single year. Shawn Habakus is the all-time career assist leader with 449 and stands 10th in the all-time scoring with 887. Juniata also scored 18 3-point field goals against Susquehanna, more than any other team in the NCAA Division II in a single game.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team improved their record this year to 10-13, winning 5 of the last 7 games including a four game win streak. The team was the "upset" team, but beat Elizabethtown by 20 points and upset Lycoming, who won the MAC Northwest divison.

The women had many outstanding players this year. Among them were Annette Hoffman, a freshman, Dana Patete, a sophomore, Pam Wyrick, a junior, and Sherry DeAgostino, a sophomore. Hoffman set a freshman record of 426 points for an 18.5 point per game average, tying for second place in the MAC-North. She is number one in total points in a single season with DeAgostino second. Sherry holds the school record for three point field goals with 16, and .500 percentage from three-point range.

Dana Patete broke her own record with 130 assists this season. She was ranked in the top 10% in the country for assists for the second year in a row.

Pam Wyrick moved into seventh place in career scoring with 620 points and is fifth on J.C.'s all-time rebounding list with 516. Wyrick was also a second-team Academic All-District selection.

"One of the nice things about this year was we had 16 players in the program and had a chance to get a lot accomplished. We are very excited about what the future holds since we have a very solid group of experienced players returning for next season," said Coach Sparr.

Coach Berrier commented that the season went "very well." He gives most of the credit to six new freshmen who had successful high school credentials.

The team was able to field a complete lineup for the first time in three years, which enabled them to win some close matches.

Coach Berrier praised four out of five freshmen with winning records this season. Those included were: Dave Bundy, Joe Kimmel, Colin Branton, and Ferris Crilly. John Telenko is the only graduate so Coach Berrier is looking forward to a good 1990-90 season. "We underclassmen gained valuable experience, since much of the starting team was freshmen" commented Branton.

The Lady Swimmers got off to a good start by winning the season opener against Lock Haven. The women continued to do well, sweeping past rivals Lycoming and King's, finishing with a season record of 8-5. The men did not fare quite as well against its opponents, ending 3-8.

Ten swimmers went to the MACs in February. Seven women and three men competed in the events, and the men placed 13th of 15 teams, and the ladies, coached by Scott Preston, came in at 12th place.

It was another great season for Juniata's baseball team, whose record finished at 18-7, and was declared co-champions of the MAC with Moravian.

The team was the MAC North division champion last year, and had lost several seniors. But this didn't affect their optimism. The team started off well, beating Hampden-Sydney in their first game, and played several tough doubleheaders against Messiah, Elizabethtown, and Susquehanna. Each time, they lost the first game but came back to win the second. The team tied with Messiah for the divison title, but at the decisive game at the playoffs for the MAC title, it started to rain and the Tribe was declared co-champions with Moravian.

"The team performed to the maximum of their capability for the majority of the year," commented Coach Bill Berrier. "It was a total team effort because of the number of players we used."

Outstanding players included Kevin Neff, who was selected as all-MAC first team outfielder. Although the team is losing several key members including Scott Close, Mike Reed, and Jeff Mroz, the Tribe remains excited for next year. Coach Berrier remarked that he was "very proud of the young but powerful baseball team."

Softball

The season opened for the softball team in a crushing victory over Gettysburg in a doubleheader, which included a no-hitter by Kate Bradley in the second game. The Tribe fell to 0-2, however, in the MAC by the beginning of April in a twinbill loss to Messiah.

The team came back for two victories over Lycoming and Dickinson, and later on, York. The women also swept past Lebanon Valley in a doubleheader, but it wasn't until the last game of the season against Elizabethtown that they would win again to finish 8-11 overall and 2-7 in the MAC Northwest.

Swinging to success proved difficult for the men's tennis team, which played in an extremely competitive division. Most of the lineup was forced to play up higher in order than they preferred. The team lost a heartbreaking match to Lycoming, and seniors Jon Seckinger and Mike Welker were unsuccessful in a grueling two-hour match against Albright, tallying 6-7, 7-6, and 6-7.

The Northwest divison for the MAC was extremely competitive and the Juniata team was unsuccessful in competing against the strong Susquehanna and Albright squads," remarked Coach Brad Small. He added,"Our team members worked very hard and game their best efforts. At this point, we hope and plan for more success in 1991."

The Indians finished the year with a season record of 2-8, and Jon Seckinger was chosen as MVP.

Track and Field

It was a season of ups and downs for the track team. The team, coached by Darren Hamilton for the first time, expected to do well in dual meets, due to its large size. However, the team had several close matches against St. Francis and Lebanon Valley, but triumphed in both. The men kept the pace and finished 4-4-1, and the women recorded 5-7 to finish out the season.

About ten of the players went to the MAC's, including Ray Shelley, who placed fourth in the 100m and 6th in the 200m. Angie Gessner and John Flesher, who was chosen the Most Valuable Runner, also did well at the MAC's.

Coach Hamilton summed up the season,"Like with any first year coach, we had our ups and downs. By the end of the year it was good to see the unity that developed."

Golf

It was a fairly positive season for the golf team, which finsihed with a successful record. The team, which plays at the Huntingdon Country Club, had to compete against Divison I and II schools, such as IUP and Penn State. However, they finished 11th out of 22 at the MAC's. An important addition to the team this year is Junior Ron Benkovic, who finished in 15th place out of 110 competitors at the MAC's. In addition, he was chosen as the team MVP.

Team Captain Bob Kelley commented that "the team was filled with juniors, which will make it especially strong next year." The team was coached by Bill Huston and Joe Scialabba.

Cheerleaders

Going to a football or basketball game would not be complete without the Juniata College cheerleaders. The group helped to motivate the crowd during the game and entertained during timeouts. # Recreation Place

Time to get away from those books? From that job? From the hassles of dorm life? Just bored? If your answer to any of these was yes, then you very likely found yourself in Kennedy Sports and Recreation Center at some point during the year. Whether you participated on a varsity or intramurals team, or just went to blow off some steam, not to mention time, the Rec center probably had something for you to do. As Carla Palmer said, "the facilities are really good, there's all kinds of things to do." With an indoor pool, sauna, mats, racquetball and handball courts, and a weight room including a Nautilus system and free weights among other things, it would be hard to dispute her.

Friday Night Live

For the first year in many, Juniata technically did not have a Coffeehouse. Instead, it was renamed Friday Night Live to get away from the image that Coffeehouse implied, that of mellow music, Jazz, poetry, and so on. This is not to say that Friday Night Live didn't include any of this, for it did. However, there was a mixture of live bands, comedians, and acts associated with the coffeehouse. In the fall, Friday Night Live was held in the Multi-Purpose Room every other week and the ballroom on weekends. However, after that, it took up a permanent residence in the ballroom due to the ease of holding it there. Depending on the night's entertainment and how many people happened to be on campus, it was not unusual to find from 75 to 100 students at the ballroom enjoying the various artists' shows.

Having a Ball

Studying at JC was very demanding and therefore "study breaks" were very much needed to relieve some stress. One of the most popular "study breaks" was the participation in intramural sports.

The intramural teams offered many sports at different levels for the students to compete in. Coming as no surpise, a favorite was volleyball which was held throughout the entire year. Other activites included basketball, racquetball, indoor soccer, and softball. There were two different skill levels with the "A" league being the most competitive and the "B" league for those players who were not as skilled, but still enjoyed the sport. There were even students not playing in intramurals, but still had a part, for it was the students who served as the referees of the games. At the end of the "season", each sport had a playoff and the members of the champion team were duly rewarded tee-shirts.

The intramural program was a good way for students to meet a variety of different people by way of a little friendly competition. Most students agreed that it was nice to win, but the competition was all in fun and everyone was there to have a good time. Fitting with this, Keli Anderson commented that "they're fun but some people just take them too seriously."

Baker and Tote

"So what are we having tonight?" "Are we going down to dinner?" These seemed to be two of the most often heard questions on campus. No matter what the circumstances were, it was a rare day when a student entirely avoided Baker Refectory or Totem Inn, better known as Baker and Tote. While it seemed that only 40% of the students managed to get up in time for breakfast, lunch and dinner seemed to be highlights. 90% of the campus went to lunch, often for the fires, and 80% showed up at dinner. The dinner plans at Baker were drawn up by the cafeteria director and manager set up on a five-week cycle. Just for a change, they made an effort to add a special every week such as a steak and shrimp night, a specialty of Chef's salad or even a theme such as Drive In Night. However, if there came a night where it just seemed unbearable to eat at Baker, there was always Tote, where sandwiches and the trimmings, fried mozzarella sticks, frozen yogurt and such were available for low prices. Leigh Luoma possibly summed up the feelings of many students about dining at Tote by saying that "they seem to have good service and the food is really good." Whether in Baker or Tote, it would have been difficult not to find at least one dish to enjoy.

Residence Life

Do you recognize the thought of living with 50 other people and having only two telephones, six showers and three washing machines? It sort of sounds like prison in a way, but guess again, because it's only a residence hall. Campus life would have been far from complete without the typical roommate squabbles, midnight door slams, getting locked out of your room, and the numerous other hassles which accompanied residence hall life.

Lifestyles varied from hall to hall: Tussey and Terrace, North, and Sherwood on the hill; centrally located Cloister; East Houses — a veritable trek across the campus; South and the Lesher nunnery set in the heart of the square; and of course, Pink and Mission House off campus. Open visitation was offered in at least some portion of all the halls.

Heading each floor in every dorm was a resident assistant, there to supervise, keep the peace, mediate arguments and of course, open doors for locked-out roommates.

Despite the daily hassles and inconveniences of residence hall life, we cannot forget the poignant memores: fire alarms at 4 A.M., cold showers when the hot water runs out, and of course, the inevitable long wait to use the phone. And studying? Studying in your room? Come on now, not with a knock at the door every ten minutes from a friend who did not have a ten page paper due the next day!

But seriously, residence hall life is a once in a lifetime experience. It was here that we learned to live with and respect others. It was here that we met our lifelong friends, and made a home away from home, our very own little haven from the rest of the world.

Weekend Life

Let's admit it — weekend life at JC was not always all that exciting. Entertainment ranged from coffeehouses to Friday night movies, and. . .the ever-popular, ever-present Saturday night dances!

Although the dances generally began at 10 P.M., it was unusual to see more than five people on the dance floor until at least 12 or 1 A.M. Dances were a common means of raising funds for a club or activity and were a relatively inexpensive way to mingle, to dance, and to have fun. The typical dance spots seemed to be the T'n'T lounge and South's Rebel Den due to their sizes, though occasionally a dance would be held in Ellis' ballroom, in the multipurpose room, or even on the tennis courts.

Completely student organized, the dances had everything a person could want provided by the cover charge. Refreshments were provided, a student Disc Jockey turned out the tunes, and student "bouncers" managed to keep things under control. The dances themselves offered an assortment of different themes, varying from the infamous Get Screwed Night, a dance held to help students get to know each other at the beginning of the year, to Beach Night, complete with a miniature swimming pool, to Super Bowl Night where everyone showed up in jerseys. At least one of these was bound to please even the most finicky student.

So, if it happened that the residence halls appeared to be deserted on a Saturday night, it was pretty safe to assume that the party goers had evacuated to the dance floor!

Student Jobs

Being a college student was not easy. . .or cheap with tuition going up every year along with the cost of living and the prices on virtually everything. In order to compensate for this, many students elected to work on campus. A variety of jobs was available, allowing the student to work in places ranging from the library, to sporting events, to the print shop. Perhaps one of the most popular jobs on campus was with the food service, which offered a variety of jobs within itself, from serving to cleaning.

Generally, the number of hours per week that a student worked was from five to eight. Wages increased each year with freshmen begin paid the least and senior the greatest. Working on campus gave students a chance to make new friends and become familiar with the staff and faculty. Often campus jobs provided an added insight as to how the college worked by letting the student help behind the scenes, especially in areas such as admissions and alumni relations.

Hugo Go Home

Hugo came. Hugo went. And in the time between, he really shook up Homecoming 1989.

News that Hurricane Hugo would brush through the Huntigdon area came early on Friday, September 22. The day was dark and rainy, and winds were strong enough to blow branches off trees in some areas. Friday night's annual homecoming pep rally was moved from Detwiler Plaza to the Kennedy Sports and Rec Center's main gym on account of the weather.

Fortunately, all events went as scheduled. The rain was light during the annual parade, which was entitled "Celebration." The rain increased around noon, however, and the football team dredged through a chilly, scoreless first half against Lebanon Valley. At halftime, Senior Melanie Hopkins was crowned the 1989 Homecoming Queen, while Junior Penny Hangliter, Sophomore Linda Olsen, and Freshman Kelly Ressler comprised the rest of the court. Afterwards, Lebanon Valley resolved the football stalemate by beating Juniata seventeen to nothing.

On Sunday, the sunshine again remained hidden. The all campus worship service, which was to be held outside at the Baker-Henry Nature Preserve, was moved to the Faculty Lounge to wrap up a soggy weekend.

It's Mom and Dad!

From October 13 to 15, 1989, few Junata students went home for the weekend. Most students had a part of their home come to them.

The annual Parents' Weekend began on Friday with the arrival of most of the parents. Some went to classes with their students on that Friday, while others came in later that night to eat dinner with their sons or daughters, to attend or perform in the Parent/Student Talent Night, or just to say hi before going to the hotel.

The first major event that day was the formal installation of Dr. Karen Wiley Sandler as vice-president and dean of academic affairs. Lunch was served on the lawn between Founders Hall and South, then most students and parents went to the football game against Lycoming. The weather was great and the sun was shining, but Lycoming dominated, 46-0.

After dinner, Oller Hall was packed with parents and students for "An Evening at Club 47 with Tom Rush and Friends," a folk music show. The "Friends" were Cheryl Wheeler and David Wilcox.

On Sunday morning, most students and parents ate at the Parents Association Annual Breakfast, went on to the all-campus worship service, and maybe had lunch together before the parents left and student behavior returned to normal.

Team sports aren't played just for the victory. Many times the thrill of the game comes from the participation itself. Such is the case of the Special Olympics games, held on the Sunday before Parent's Weekend. Once again, Juniata hosted the Regional Volleyball Tournament for the Pennsylvania Special Olympics, giving more than sixty mentally and physically handicapped kids the chance to compete for team and individual awards. However, it wasn't just the Special Olympics that received a sense of accomplishment. Many college students also deserved the feel of satisfaction that they gained from their role in the day's events. They helped in registering the athletes, organized the ceremonies, and perhaps most importantly, served as huggers. These were the students who encouraged the Olympians and gave them the support that they needed.

Mountain Day

Anticipation ran high in the beginning of October for Mountain Day, the day when students wake up to find all classes cancelled and buses waiting to take them away to Greenwood Furnace. Activites ranged from volleyball and football to hiking in the forested hills. A lunch of barbecued chicken and cider was served at noon. In the afternoon, several tug-of-wars were held and the college continued to enjoy the sunny day.

One Day of Christmas

Once again, students braved the cold weather to gain a spot in line for tickets to the Madrigal Dinner. The evening of December 8th finally arrived and made the long wait in line worthwhile. The dinner was held in Baker Refectory, which had been decorated with cut greens and red ribbons on the walls, and a large Christmas tree in the center of the room. Dr. Ralph Church began the evening by giving a reading of his version of "The Night Before Christmas". Afterwards, the students enjoyed a dinner of Cornish game hen, served by members of the faculty and administration.

Following the dinner, Mike Ford backed up by Greg Weaver and Eric Kintzer sang their doo-wop version of "Santa Claus is Coming to Town". Andy and Terry Murray performed several of their own songs and led the group in Christmas carols, ending with "The Twelve Days of Christmas". Following the meal, the Madrigal dance was held in Baker, capping off the evening of good food and fun for all.

Artist Series

This year's Artists Series provided a diverse list of entertainers, ranging from Odissi Dance performed by Itishree Devi to the brilliance of pianist Riabikoff. Other artists included The Saxtet, Jack Daniels & the Silver Cornet Band, Uzulu Dance Theatre, Sandra Reaves-Phillips, Sally Rogers & Howie Bursen, and several movies.

An old-fashioned Christmas concert was given by Mr. Jack Daniels Original Silver Cornet Band.

Sandra Reaves-Phillips performed a tribute to "The Late Great Ladies of Blues and Jazz".

The drama "Bound for Canaan" introduced Juniata to actors Don Perkins and Victor Izay.

Entertainers and Lectures

Students heard a first-hand account of Tiananmen Square from a reporter who happened to be there that spring.

Nothing Changes

"The more things change, the more they stay the same," goes an old adage. But after the places were announced at All Class Night this year, one would have to say that this adage has some validity.

The theme of the evening was mystery. The seniors, winners of All Class Night in both 1988 and 1989, started off the evening with a spoof of "Ten Little Indians." Newly-married faculty couples such as professors Jim Donaldson and Karen Rosell were portrayed, and the class of 1992 was made out to be the killers. The songs "Wild Thing" and "Respect" were performed with altered lyrics.

The second class to perform was the sophomores. The title of their performance was "The Phantom of the Oller," and they spoofed "Saturday Night Live" and "Cheers" characters as well as Juniata faculty. The juniors, the class of 1991, followed with a Juniata version of the game of Clue, where Professor Janet Lewis was heavily mocked. The class of 1993, the freshmen, surprised the audience with a fairly strong performance in which freshmen were dying, and the faculty spoofed students John Deppen and Nick Spadea in a rare performance.

In the end, each class won the same place they did last year (class of '90 first, '92 second, '91 fourth) and the freshmen third.

Janet Lewis was a target of the Juniors' skit.

The evening was hosted by Master of Ceremonies Chris Conner.

The Seniors portrayed various faculty and administration, including President and Mrs. Neff.

Jim Donaldson (Eric Kintzer) and Dr. Neff (Todd Miller) ponder a strange message.

Presidential Ball

"Mardi Gras" was the theme of this year's annual Presidential Ball, held on February 17th. The first item of the evening was the Presidential Pops Concert, held in Oller Hall. The Concert Band performed several dixieland and jazz numbers, closing with "When the Saints Go Marching In".

The Ball started at 9:30, in Baker Refectory. The dining hall was brilliantly decorated with a mural of a medieval castle on the windows, balloons, and a large steamboat at the end of the room. Shortly after the beginning of the evening, the court was announced. Nick Spadea hosted the ceremony, and the court consisted of five couples selected by the student body, and ruled by Dr. and Mrs. Neff. The king and queen led the first dance, and soon the entire dance floor was filled with couples fox trotting, tangoing, and just twisting to the music. There were several group dances, too, including the stroll and a circle dance to "Havah Nagilah". When the dancers needed a break, there was plenty of punch to drink and a large spread of food, including buffalo wings and chocolate truffles.

The party continued past midnight until two o'clock, when Baker Refectory turned back into its normal self, but the dancers will remember Mardi Gras long after the ball was over.

Nick Spadea emceed the evening and announced the faculty court.

Dr. and Mrs. Neff were coronated King and Queen of the Mardi Gras festival.

There was plenty of food for snacks in between dances.

Michelle Bannon, Mike Reno, Dan Summers, and Jen Stark enjoy the evening.

The Mad Woman

The Juniata College Theatre performed two plays during the 1989-90 season. The fall production was titled "The Madwoman of Chaillot", a drama set in France. The next play, "Eleemosynary", was given at the end of February. Finally, the Juniata College Musical Theatre presented "Guys and Dolls", a musical set on broadway. It was a combined effort by the Theatre, the Juniata College Choir, and an orchestra conducted by Ibrook Tower.

The Theatre takes pride in their efforts to build a performing arts program, and all of the technical and production positions were held by students. Their selections of plays was designed to achieve classic, thought-provoking drama for the entire college, and to examine human relationships. In addition, it proved it could provide pure entertainment with its version of "Guys and Dolls".

Carol Redzensky portrays the Mad Woman in the fall production.

Katy Lynn, Alicia Rosenstiehl, and Kristen Murray as Dorothea, Echo, and Artie in "Eleemosynary".

Rob Biter plays the Rag Picker in the trial scene of "Mad Woman".

Good Day Sunshine

By the time the end of the second semester came around, the college was ready for a weekend to just take it easy for a while. Springfest, held the last weekend in April, provided just that for stressed-out students. The theme was "Carnival", and the schedule began with the annual Mud Volleyball Tournament, held below Sherwood. Each team consisted of six to eight people, and game length was limited to fifteen minutes because of the large number of teams that signed up. The tournament was single-elimination and lasted all afternoon, and even after a team's game the players stayed near the courts, throwing anybody who was clean into the mud puddles.

On Saturday, a large picnic was held all afternoon on North Lawn. Submarine sandwiches were served, and No Control led off a series of bands which included Live Bait and Crazy Daze. Most people elected to sit and enjoy the warm weather and sunshine, and some walked over to the sno-cone stand for a free frozen cone, or tried to dunk one another in the dunking booth. In addition, there was a whipped-cream pie throwing booth where one could try their aim at a friend or even Dr. Neff's face. When suppertime came, there was barbecued chicken, steak, and a selection of vegetables to eat, ending the afternoon of music and fun.

Mud Volleyball continues to be a popular sport at Juniata.

Not everyone who got dirty played volleyball, some had a good time mud sliding or throwing others in.

John Colbert and Mario Mastroianni get a taste of the dirt after being thrown by several participants.

Nancy Nestor and Kim Wurth are in the Springfest spirit.

Lunch time was a good time to sit down and take in the music.

Sno-cones were a popular way to cool off.

Saturday afternoon opened with No Control.

Glenn Smith backs up with the sound system from Power 92.

Lunch on North Lawn

WKVR featured its Winnebago, which was "Making Waves on the Lake".

Strong winds took its toll on this carnival stand.

Seniors

Anxious seniors Michelle Anderson and Kirk Altmanshofer wait for the program to begin.

Charles C. Ellis opens the commencement ceremonies.

Graduation finally came to anxious seniors on May 13th. The wet weather didn't dampen spirits, though Baccalaureate and the graduation ceremony had to be held in the gym.

Commencement began at two o'clock, opened by Charles C. Ellis. The guest speaker was Frances Hesselbein, followed by the presentation of degrees of the arts and sciences.. Afterwards, two honorary degrees were given to Ms. Hesselbein, honorary Doctor of Law, and David Wertz Ellis, honorary Doctor of Humane Letters. The service closed with the singing of the Alma Mater, led by Joseph Figg, and the Benediction, given by the Rev. M. Andrew Murray.

Frances Hesselbein delivers the commencement address.

Michelle Bannon waits for her name to be called.

President Robert Neff welcomes the audience to the commencement service.

Due to inclement weather, graduation had to be held in the gym of Kennedy Sports + Recreation Center.

The life that holds faces dear,
Is the mind in its full bloom,
The passing show, the learned horde,
The chapel and classroom.
All these and more have given us
Deep seated and kind reminiscences.
